Utica, Aug. 27.—While Vice President Sherman is touring the West, speaking in behalf of some of his friends in Congress, his own political affairs at home are going from bad to worse. The anti-Sherman leaders in Oneida County are planning to humiliate the Vice President by depriving him of the delegates to the State convention from his own county. Roosevelt sentiment is strong here on that point.

The Republican League of Oneida County, the insurgent organization, under the leadership of former Assemblyman M. K. Hart, held a meeting to-night to decide what is to be done about the Roosevelt Sherman situation. Sons of the more conservative members talked about courtesy and argued that respect for the office of Vice President forbade any action that would embarrass Mr. Sherman. The subject was thrashed out in a three-hour session, and it was finally determined to wage an aggressive campaign in all three districts of Oneida County to elect Roosevelt delegates at primaries, and, if possible, to obtain a solid Roosevelt delegation to the State convention.

Sentiment Is Cut Out.

Sentiment has been cut out of the campaign. The Republican League will carry the fight into the Seventh ward of Utica, where Sherman lives, and they declare that they will win. As they have already been victorious in two or three fights in that locality there is little doubt that they will make good their threat.

Mr. Sherman's organization is largely composed of the postmasters in his old Congressional district, who have successfully carried out his orders in many contests, but now are beginning to waver. Many of the commissions that hang on the walls of country post-offices bear the signature of Theodore Roosevelt; others the name of William H. Taft. The postmasters will not quarrel with their bread and butter.

The Republican League is planning another attack on Sherman indirectly. An effort is to be made to induce District Attorney Emerson Willis to make a fight against Congressman Millington, Sherman's protégé, for the Congressional nomination in this district. Willis is the district attorney who conducted a spectacular fight upon graft in Oneida County two years ago, and he would be a very popular candidate. But he has steadfastly refused to enter the race with any of the other candidates. Now a monster petition is in preparation urging him to reconsider.

PRESIDENT RIDES

ROAD TO DUBLIN

Executive and Family Guests of Secretary MacVeagh.

Dublin, N. H., Aug. 27.—President Taft rode over the rocky road to Dublin today with Mrs. Taft, Mrs. Louis T. More, her sister, Miss Helen Taft, and Capt. Butt. He motored over from Beverly. He made the fifteen miles in three and a half hours, leaving the summer capital shortly after noon. To-night the Presidential party were guests at the summer home of the Secretary of the Treasury, Franklin MacVeagh. The summer residents in the vicinity came up to meet the President at an informal reception. On the trip over the Secret Service men's car had a blow-out, and came straggling into Dublin an hour behind the President.

James Bryce, Ambassador from Great Britain to the United States, called at Secretary MacVeagh's home to-night to present to the President the formal letter announcing the death of King Edward VII, and also his letter of credentials from the heir, King George V. The letters were couched in ancient English.

Gov. Quinby a Caller.

Gov. Quinby, of New Hampshire, called to-night to shake hands with the President. Although the President received no communication to-day from Seattle in regard to the forest fires in Washington, it is probable that he will order the War Department to use the guns in the fortification in that State for rain-making purposes.

Gen. Leonard Wood, Chief of Staff of the army, has frowned upon the proposition to turn the artillery into a rain-making corps, asserting it would cost more than $10,000 a round to fire the guns which the Washingtonians want fired. The President is understood to agree with Gen. Wood's idea. He may, however, look into the matter again upon his return to Beverly to-morrow.

AMERICANS IN GENEVA.

A Large Number of Tourists in the Picturesque City.

Geneva, Aug. 27.—Geneva might just now be well described as an American city transplanted by some Aladdin method to the shores of the shimmering lake it adorns. The number of the Americans present indicates a great assembly of notables from the United States. All the cities from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from the Great Lakes to the Gulf are represented, and their autos are filling the garages. Machines from 45 to 70 horsepower are common, and are constantly on the move, their owners motoring about from point to point. Mr. George Jay Gould and family have been among the more prominent American motorists, each member of the party having an individual motor.

Geneva's situation is so unique that it furnishes an unrivaled opportunity for visitors, and all the roads and routes of the Jura region, for instance, have provided many delights for the Lake of Neuchâtel and district has many historical and beautiful scenic attractions. Then the shore on the Lake of Geneva, crowded as it is with associations, is familiar to many who visit it again and again. About the lake many famous in the musical world have their villas, among them being Paderewski, Mme. Sembrich, Hoffman, and the Schellings.

Geneva is now taking a great interest in aviation. M. Armand Dufaure, in his own biplane, intends to fly from Montreux to Geneva over the lake, and he is to be followed over the water by seventy-five motor boats.

Artist Sails Abroad.

Sailing from Philadelphia yesterday on the Havreford of the American Line for London, Tom Eason, well known about Washington as a water-color artist, left for a year's stay on the Continent and in Africa. He will return to execute several commissions he has secured as interior decorator of several Washington homes now under course of construction. A few weeks before his departure Mr. Eason completed an elaborate decorative frieze in the St. James Hotel, where he has had his studio for several years.

of the water below him, and passed in the heavy smoke that rolled up from the incinerators of Barren Island. Presently he was just a smudge in the faraway sunlight.

All this time Horton on the roof was listening. The air was full of wireless whistles. A dozen stations were chattering and scolding each other for spilling words carelessly along the clean air lines. The ships at sea were blinding of a big tropical blow that was coming up from somewhere this side of the equator, and folks with nothing else to do were chatting sociably.

Message Came Slowly.

Finally Horton got his message with breaks and interruptions and long-drawn-out syllables, but it came. To Horton that was the big thing, the answer to a year's experimenting and hope. Dot by dot and dash by dash he pieced it out. Then, five minutes later, McCurdy swooped down to say that it was no trouble at all. He wiggled his fingers over the sending key without swerving his machine a foot out of his course up or down. He was traveling slantingly against the wind at, perhaps, forty miles an hour when he wirelessed to Horton.

"Glad," said Horton, "you can bet the last dollar you can rake up or steal that I'm glad. Honestly, I don't believe we begin to know the possibilities of this thing. Wait till they build better aeroplanes. Wait till we monkey with aeroplanes wireless apparatus a little more, then there will be doings."

MISSING WOMAN

IS FOUND DEAD

Her Son's Telephone Message Leads to Discovery.

Reported as missing from her home at 25 Missouri avenue northwest since Thursday last, Mrs. Sarah Neville was found dead when her room was broken open yesterday afternoon. Coroner Nevitt ordered the body removed to the morgue. A certificate of death from natural causes was given.

Mrs. Neville, who had been a widow several years, lived alone in a back room. She had few friends, and seldom went out of the house. Servants were never admitted to the room. On Wednesday last, Mrs. Neville told Mrs. Rotherby, the landlady, that she was going out to see her son, Henry A. Curney. No one at the house saw Mrs. Neville return.

Yesterday morning a telephone message was received from the son asking for his mother. He said he had not seen her for some weeks. A roomer broke open the door to the woman's room, and the body was discovered.

Mrs. Neville is known to have had other relatives besides Curney, who was a son by her first marriage. No funeral arrangements have been made.

GORMAN ARRAIGNED

BY STANLEY MEN

Didn't Keep Debate Appointment with R. W. Wells.

Special to The Washington Herald.

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 27.—After a deft hand had been issued by Robert W. Wells, of Washington, D. C., to Arthur P. Gorman, Jr., of Laurel, Md., to meet him in joint debate at a mass meeting here to-night Mr. Gorman failed to appear and came in for a severe arraignment at the hands of Mr. Wells.

The meeting was held in the interest of Charles H. Stanley, candidate for Congress from the Fifth Maryland district. Mr. Wells severely criticised Mr. Gorman for not appearing at the meeting. When seen here to-night, Mr. Wells made the following statement concerning the meeting in the Riggs House, Washington, this afternoon:

"A number of interested persons gathered there this afternoon to adopt measures to prevent the circulation of money for obtaining votes in the present Congressional campaign. A number of detectives were employed, who will devote their time to watching the district, and there is little doubt that arrests will follow. Feeling runs high, and I know the best sentiment is opposed to such practices. It is known that large sums of money are ready for distribution."

the Rocks.

Victoria, British Columbia, Aug. 27.—The Canadian General Methodist conference, in session here last night, by an overwhelming majority, declared in favor of a basis of church union whereby the Methodists, Presbyterians, and Congregationalists in the Dominion may unite under one denomination it be known as the "Union Church." The union has already been agreed upon by the other two churches.

Queen's Rifles in London.

London, Aug. 27.—A rousing reception was given the Queen's Own Rifles of Canada upon their arrival at Aldershot to-day. Their progress through the thronged streets to the camp evoked enthusiasm similar to that displayed at Liverpool earlier in the day. The municipality presented an address of welcome. Extensive arrangements have been made to entertain the men and to show them the sights of London.
